

Coronado Visitor's Guide

YOUR GUIDE TO PLANNING A CORONADO VACATION

Welcome to Coronado

A mere two-mile drive from cosmopolitan, downtown San Diego, across one of the world's most distinctive bridges, is Coronado Island – a world away. A town rich in history, blessed with one of the finest beaches in the world and bathed in endless sunshine, Coronado is a vibrant beach community loaded with charm. What can you expect to find when you visit Coronado?

CORONADO IS HOME TO A NATIONAL TREASURE

The crowning glory of the island is the Hotel del Coronado, the Victorian masterpiece that is the only true beachfront hotel in all of San Diego. The Del, as the legendary resort is affectionately known, is a National Historic Landmark and is as impressive now as when the seaside resort was built in 1888. Coronado is a town that celebrates its rich heritage and preserves its unique historical culture.

CORONADO IS A WORLD CLASS RESORT DESTINATION

More than 2 million visitors come to Coronado annually, catered to by 17 hotels, including three world-class resorts, and over 70 restaurants. Boutiques, art galleries, day spas, yacht marinas, a stunning 18-hole golf course and endless recreational opportunities complete the resort lifestyle. From local day trippers to international tourists, people of all ages are drawn to enjoy all that Coronado has to offer.

CORONADO IS QUINTESSENTIAL "SMALL-TOWN AMERICA"

With a one-mile-long main street, Orange Avenue, Coronado is a quaint all-American village of 25,000 residents, complete with mom-and-pop shops, parades and picnics in the park. Explore the friendly neighborhoods with quiet tree-lined streets and alleys and you'll discover an eclectic mix of architectural styles from historically preserved Victorians and craftsman-style bungalows to Spanish villas and cozy beach cottages.

Coronado is also known as the Crown City, named after the Las Islas Coronadas (the crowned islands) about 15 miles off shore.

CORONADO IS A RELAXED SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA BEACH TOWN

Coronado's flat white sand beach has family-friendly surf and postcard sunsets framed by the picturesque silhouette of the Point Loma headland. Coronado is consistently rated one of the best beaches in the world. And if the renowned beaches aren't enough, there is also a bayside district with breathtaking views of the San Diego skyline and the bustling activity on the "Big Bay."

CORONADO IS A NAVY TOWN

The US military has been a presence in Coronado since 1913 when the Army first came here. A decade later the Navy established Naval Air Station North Island which today occupies the entire north half of Coronado and is home port to three aircraft carriers. At the southern end of town the Naval Amphibious Base is home to the elite fighting group, the Navy SEALs, and Navy housing communities populate the peninsula.

CORONADO HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Because of its proximity to San Diego's nightlife and world-famous attractions, Coronado is an ideal jumping-off place for the perfect Southern California vacation. Whether it's the setting for a fairytale wedding, a memorable family holiday or a season in the sun, discover for yourself why Coronado is known as "The Enchanted Isle."

A Town Steeped in History

Once a flat, treeless landmass in the middle of the bay separating San Diego from the Pacific Ocean, Coronado attracted indigenous people gathering food sources, fishing, and hunting jackrabbits and quail. But things changed in 1886 when visionary investors from the Midwest saw the potential of this scrubby "island". Elisha Babcock and Hampton Story began building a seaside resort community. Their syndicate, the Coronado Beach Company, held a land auction and eventually amassed a huge profit which would be used to build their dream resort that they hoped would be the "talk of the Western world."

After the fast-track construction project was completed in just over a year, the first official guests were received in 1888. Built entirely of wood and completed at a cost of $1 million, the Hotel del Coronado is one of the last remaining Victorian seaside resorts, designed in the Queen Anne Revival style with its whimsical turrets and asymmetrical design.

Coronado is also nicknamed The Emerald City because L. Frank Baum, the author of "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz," found inspiration in the fairyland-like surroundings of Coronado, which is evident in the subsequent Oz books he penned while wintering here.

When the economy took a downturn right after the hotel opened, sugar magnate John D. Spreckels bought out the original investors to become sole proprietor by 1892. He built a grand mansion across the street on Glorietta Boulevard and established an alternative resort called Tent City down the Strand.

Tent City appealed to America's emerging middle class who couldn't afford to stay at the hotel. Vacationers flocked to the make-shift city of 1,000 tents where they could enjoy bathing facilities, sailing and aquaplaning, carnival booths, a Ferris wheel and a dance pavilion. Unlike the hotel's "season," which attracted visitors from cold climates in the winter, Tent City drew a summer crowd from hot inland California and Arizona – a pattern that is still in evidence today. Tent City flourished until 1939.

Spreckels sold "North Island" to the US government in 1917 where the US Army, Marines, and now the Navy have made it home. North Island was the site for the first seaplane flight, the first mid-air refueling and the first non-stop transcontinental flight. Charles Lindbergh flew from North Island on the first leg of his celebrated New York to Paris flight in 1927.

The relaxed Coronado way of life changed forever in 1969 when the bridge to San Diego opened and replaced the automobile ferries – despite protests from many residents. Coronado's first traffic signals were installed in order to cope with the influx of thousands of vehicles per day.

The island's population fluctuates between 22-30,000 residents depending on the season. But since Coronado's inception the community has had a careful approach to planned development, assuring that the quality of both the residential lifestyle and the business community remains vibrant today.

When to Visit

Coastal San Diego's weather is the best in the country and you can expect moderate temperatures year-round. The average temperature is 70 degrees, humidity is comfortably low and average rainfall is only about 10 inches a year.

Although some mornings start out with a cloud cover – especially during “May Gray” and “June Gloom” – you can usually expect sunshine by mid-morning.

Annual Events

APRIL: CORONADO FLOWER SHOW, BOOK FAIR, MOTORCARS ON MAINSTREET

The largest flower show in the west, Coronado's annual flower show draws thousands of gardening and flower enthusiasts to Spreckels Park. Several community events coincide with the Flower Show weekend including the massive Friends of the Library Book Fair and the classic car show, MotorCars on MainStreet.

MAY: HISTORIC HOME TOUR

A Coronado tradition hosted by the Coronado Museum of History & Art, the annual home tour takes you inside some of Coronado's historically significant private homes. Tickets are required for this self-guided walking tour.

MEMORIAL DAY TO MID-SEPTEMBER: THE SUMMER CONCERTS

Concerts in the Park are all-American fun and a beloved Coronado institution. Bring a picnic and join the crowd every Sunday at 6pm in Spreckels Park. Or enjoy the Summer Pops series every weekend afternoon at the Coronado Ferry Landing. Admission is free.

JULY: FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Independence Day activities kick off with a 5k and 15k Run/Walk at dawn. The day includes a rough-water swim at North Beach, the famous two-hour parade along Orange Avenue, Art-in-the-Park, a concert in Spreckels Park, and culminates with spectacular fireworks over Glorietta Bay.

SEPTEMBER: CORONADO ART WALK

This annual celebration of the arts is a free, public event. Exhibits and entertainment are at the Coronado Ferry Landing with additional sites in the central village and Spreckels Park.

SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER: CHRYSLER CLASSIC SPEED FESTIVAL

The annual car race is part of Fleet Week San Diego and takes over the runways of Naval Air Station North Island. This vintage auto race features over 200 classic cars racing on a spectator-friendly 1.6 mile course.

DECEMBER: HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS

The holiday season in Coronado starts the first Friday in December when Santa arrives by ferry at the Coronado Ferry Landing. A festive parade along Orange Avenue follows, while merchants keep their doors open late for shopping. Santa lights the 75-foot star pine Christmas tree located in the center of town as the community band plays holiday music. The evening finishes with fireworks over Glorietta Bay. Throughout the month the Hotel del Coronado offers outdoor ice-skating overlooking the Pacific Ocean. Shop for unique gifts at the Artisan's Alley Craft Fair on the first Saturday of the month. Watch decorated boats circle the bay on Sunday nights during the San Diego Bay Parade of Lights.

Recreation

Swim, surf, sail, fish or stand-up paddle. Bike, skate, jog, golf or play tennis. Coronado is definitely the place to be if you love the outdoors, whether on land or in the water.

• BEACHES

The Pacific Ocean meets the Coronado peninsula along a wide, flat beach with gentle, inviting surf. Consistently rated as one of the best beaches in the world for families, the beach is also one of the most romantic and is the number-one wedding destination in America. Nearly 3 million people enjoy Coronado's beaches every year. In the early morning you may see Navy SEALs working out and in the evening watch spectacular sunsets as sailboats return and cruise ships depart San Diego Bay.

Coronado Beach

The main two-mile beach has four sections. At the foot of the Coronado Shores condominium towers is South Beach where the hull of the sunken gambling ship, the Monte Carlo, can be seen at low tide. The section starting at the Hotel del Coronado past the life guard tower is Central Beach overlooked by the stately homes along

No kites are allowed on Central Beach because it is under the flight path of the Naval Air Station. Alcoholic beverages, smoking and glass containers are prohibited on any city beach or park in Coronado.

Ocean Boulevard. North Beach attracts surfers in the morning, and fire rings are available for bonfires at night. At the far north is Dog Beach where canines can play leash-free. Lifeguards are on duty year round from 9am until dusk; volleyball nets, restrooms and showers are available. Beach wheelchairs are free to the public.

Coronado Ferry Landing

A little sandy beach and lawn overlook San Diego Bay adjacent to fishing/ferry pier with sweeping views of downtown San Diego and the bustling waterfront. Restrooms and free parking available.

Silver Strand State Beach

4.5 miles south of Coronado, this beach has fire rings, lifeguards, restrooms and showers. This is one of the best kiteboarding areas in Southern California, both on the relatively calm bay waters and in the ocean surf. An underpass allows access to the bayside beach and picnic area as well as Loews Coronado Bay Resort. South of the developed area, there are 3.5 miles of ocean and natural preserve.

● PARKS

Coronado has 21 parks throughout the city ranging from tiny pocket parks to the traditional central square at the heart of the island. Listed here are some of the most popular.

Centennial Park

Located at the foot of Orange Ave at First St, this park has breathtaking views of downtown San Diego across the bay.

Spreckels Park

Located between 6th and 7th streets, this park covers an entire city block in the center of town and features a playground and gazebo. Donated by John D. Spreckels, one of Coronado's city fathers in 1927. Restrooms available.

Tidelands Park

Coronado's largest park with 22 acres of bayfront land is at the base of the Coronado Bridge. The park has four ball fields, a playground, a skatepark, a small beach exercise course, picnic benches, bike and pedestrian paths, restrooms and plenty of parking.

Sunset Park

A three-acre patch of grass at the end of Ocean Blvd that is big enough for ball games with some of the best sunset views in Coronado.

Glorietta Bay Park

A small, scenic park with views of the bay and bridge has a playground, restrooms and a boat launch just south of the Community Center on Strand Way.

Getting Around

The drive from the San Diego International Airport at Lindbergh Field is less than 10 miles and takes 15 to 20 minutes; a cab ride will cost approximately $30. Once here, you'll find that one of Coronado's most charming features is how unnecessary a car is – the island is flat and a little over a mile across. Coronado earns a Walk Score™ of 98 out of 100 – a "Walker's Paradise" where most errands can be accomplished on foot and many people get by without owning a car. You might consider renting a bike or surrey to better explore the neighborhoods, and bikes are permitted on the pedestrian ferry that takes you over to San Diego's waterfront.

• CROSSING THE BAY

The Coronado/San Diego Ferry shuttles passengers between the Broadway Pier in downtown San Diego and the Coronado Ferry Landing. The ferry leaves San Diego on the hour from 9am to 9pm, and from Coronado every hour on the half hour from 9:30am until 9:30pm (10:30pm on weekends). Tickets may be purchased at either end. (619) 234-4111, (800) 442-7847 or sdhe.com

The $1 toll on the 2.12 mile-long San Diego–Coronado Bay Bridge was removed in June 2002 once the bridge construction was paid for.

San Diego Water Taxi offers on-call transportation around San Diego Bay including Coronado. Enjoy the scenery on the way to your favorite waterfront shopping center, attraction or restaurant. The taxi operates every day from 3pm to 10pm. (619) 235-8294 or sdhe.com

• PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

The MTS Route 901 bus originates in downtown San Diego and goes to the entrance to Naval Air Station North Island, stops along Orange Avenue and the Silver Strand before it continues on to Imperial Beach, the city south of Coronado.

The MTS Route 904 Coronado Shuttle

crosses the island hourly from 10am to 6pm from the bay side at the Coronado Island Marriott and Ferry Landing along Orange Avenue to the Hotel del Coronado and City Hall, except Sunday. The shuttle is timed to coordinate with ferry departures and arrivals. Dial 511 or (619) 233-3004 or www.sdmts.com for transit information.

• TRANSPORTATION RENTAL

Whether you want an electric cart, a beach cruiser, a tandem bike, or a surrey, you can rent wheels from locations around the island.

Shuttle service to and from the San Diego airport and Amtrak Station. (619) 435-6310

- PARKING

There is metered parking available on Orange Avenue in the downtown area as well as some of the side streets. Most meters are $.25 for an hour with a two-hour limit. There is no charge to park after 6pm Mon-Sat and on Sundays and holidays. The Coronado Ferry Landing offers free parking when you visit its shops and restaurants. Parking along Ocean Blvd at Coronado's Central Beach is free, but spaces tend to fill up quickly, especially in the summer. RVs under 24' can park on the street for 72 hours but cannot be used as a residence. Larger vehicles will need a permit.

Commonly referred to as an island, Coronado is actually a peninsula surrounded by three bodies of water: the Pacific Ocean, San Diego Bay and Glorietta Bay. In its early settlement days, the "Strand" would occasionally flood at high tide and create an island.

Cloud 9 Shuttle

Shuttle service to and from the San Diego airport and Amtrak Station. (800) 974-8885 or cloud9shuttle.com

- SPEED LIMITS

As you drive into Coronado, take the opportunity to slow down to the relaxed island pace. The speed limit is 25 miles per hour all over the island, and you'll be sharing the road with many cyclists and even a golf cart or two. Expect a steady stream of traffic on Orange Avenue, especially during the summer months.

Shopping & Dining

Once you arrive in Coronado, you'll have plenty of opportunity for recreational shopping. The town has over 100 shops and boutiques scattered along Orange Avenue, at the Ferry Landing, and in the Hotel del Coronado and Loews Coronado Bay Resort. From jewelry to fashion to local art and Coronado souvenirs, you'll want to take home a reminder of your trip to the enchanted island.

Your hardest decision will be where to eat, since Coronado has over 70 cafés and restaurants to choose from. You'll find fresh seafood, California cuisine and ethnic fare, and many offer outdoor dining for you to enjoy Coronado's enviable weather.

Pick up a current shopping and restaurant guide from the Visitor Center when you get to town, or download them from www.coronadovisitorcenter.com.
